

The First Can-Sat Leader Training Program in Saudi Arabia

Sultan Alsultan, Saudi Arabia

This paper reports the first Saudi space science and technology educational program. And it held at the The Environmental Remote Sensing Center "TECRS" for a number of Saudi university instructors and Saudi Arabia specialist. The first course of this program (CLTP1-SA) was held for two weeks from Sept 1 to Sept 4, 2014. Number of participants from different Saudi universities was participating in this first round. In this paper the activities which had been done during these two weeks and the Can-Sats drop test results will be presented.